Ken Kennedy

vocalist, multi-instrumentalist, composer and arranger

From his gospel roots growing up in North Carolina, performing in Memphis and Nashville studios, to traveling the world as a big band vocalist, Ken Kennedy is known as the "entertainer's entertainer." He has performed on the Grand Ole Opry stage and created and performed "Ken Kennedy Sings Sinatra" with full symphonic arrangements.

A multi-instrumentalist, Ken is recognized for his remarkable voice, diverse musical palette and the natural ability to connect with audiences of all ages and genres. He has shared the stage and the recording studio over the past 50 years with a who's who of musical greats from the fields of rock, R&B, jazz and country.

Ken has spent his lifetime singing, playing, composing and arranging music. He wrote and was featured in several national commercials for corporate brands. As the vocalist for USAirways Jazz Orchestra he consistently amazed audiences around the world in his engagements at the Grand Casino, Deauville, Paris, and Frankfurt as well as most major US cities. He was the featured vocalist in the "Down Home with the Carolina Pops" tour with the Greensboro Symphony.

TESTIMONIALS:

"I've had the pleasure of working with Ken since he performed an outdoor concert for our residents during COVID. Since then, he's performed additional concerts because our residents love his music! He's very personable, easy-going, and professional. I look forward to working with Ken more in the future."

Lenore Teer
Director of Theatre Programming & Operations
Well Spring Community

"I've known Ken for over 35 years. We met when we performed together in the USAirways Jazz Orchestra. Since then, the Greensboro Symphony Orchestra has booked him several times. He's a vocalist, pianist, guitarist and harmonica player. He's the ultimate professional and all-around good guy!"

Wally West
Director of Artistic Operations
Greensboro Symphony Orchestra